Editorial

The editorial team takes great pleasure in placing before its esteemed readers yet another edition of the annual magazine 'Cuncolean 2019-2020'. As usual the academic year started on a hectic note with the college organizing an induction programme for the new entrants to make them feel at home. The year saw a slight surge in the number of students and activities as well. The activities of all the councils and units kick-started with a joint inaugural function, at the hands of the renowned ENT Surgeon from Cuncolim, Dr. Jorson Fernandes. This year, the Students Council and the Cultural Council collaborated organizing the second edition of 'Yuva Sangram 2020', an Inter-collegiate event, which saw students from Goa's well-known institutions of higher education competing with each other for the coveted title.

Our sports persons made us proud by bringing laurels to the college. In the Inter Collegiate Kabaddi Tournament, organised by the Goa University, the Mens Team secured the Runners up position. They also secured the third position at the All Goa Police Kabadi Police cup. The kho kho teams (men and women) secured a Runners up place in the Goa University Inter Collegiate Tournament. Our student, Mr. Depesh Velip got an opportunity to participate in the kho-kho coaching camp for selection of the India team to participate in the Asian Tournament.

With the objective of augmenting the holistic development of students the institution initiated an NCC unit, wherein 18 students pursuing first year were enrolled. The NSS unit was exemplary in undertaking most of the activities with the objective of inculcating a sense of social concern and a civic sense in NSS volunteers. The activities conducted by the unit were dedicated exclusively to 'Swachata Mission'. In this regard, the role played by my colleagues and Programme Officers Mr. Vinod Kankonkar, Ms. Yashmita Ghatwal, Ms. Tina D'Souza, Ms. Ashvini Chari, Ms. Radhika Pandey and Mr. Sanjay Velip needs to be applauded. Its their guidance that helped the college to win the second place as the 'Clean Institution in Cuncolim Town'.

As we ventured into a new year 2020, little did we expect that the academic year would have to come to a grinding halt on account of the global COVID-19 pandemic. And barely three months later we were witness to the havoc and miseries that it was causing to the entire humanity. The University was ultimately left with no other option than that of extending the academic year upto the 31st of July 2020, after a break of almost two months. The teachers had to join duty from the 1st of June, sans students, eagerly awaiting instructions regarding the changes to follow in mode of teaching and examinations as well. It is said that pain and sorrow are temporary phases and hope that this phase passes off fast.

We at C.ES never imagined that this academic year would leave us all in a state of shock at the sudden and untimely death of our young and dynamic teacher Mr. Nityanand Naik. Tragic beyond words, his death is a huge loss to his family, moreover to his wife Ms. Deepa and little son Arya with whom he shared all his love and affection. Yes, its true, we have lost a dear friend and a valued colleague, but an eternal memory will continue to grow.

Message

I am happy to appreciate the efforts of the editorial team to bring out 'Cuncolean 2019-20'.

An annual magazine provides an outlet to students to showcase their intellectual and creative skills.

I am convinced that the contents therein, will be a source of inspiration and pleasure for all readers.

From the Principals desk....

I feel honoured to write these few lines for the annual magazine ‘Cuncolean 2019-2020’. It is said that ‘good team work is the synergistic way of working with each person committed towards a shared goal’. In this regard, I would like to begin by thanking the Management, teachers, staff and students, for making team work a priority and helping to achieve institutional goals.

The academic year commenced with 555 students on roll. Keeping ahead of us the vision of promoting the all-round development of our students, the Student’s council and Cultural council conducted activities that gave an opportunity to students to develop their leadership qualities and organizational skills. This academic year, the councils collaborated to organize the second edition of Intercollegiate event ‘Yuva Sangram 2019-20’.

The sports unit needs to be applauded for the encouragement and motivation it gives to students to excel in sports. Our Kho-kho and Kabaddi teams could secure the runners up position, and we are hopeful that they will emerge champions soon.

A word of appreciation goes out to the NSS unit for dedicating the year to ‘Swatcha Mission’ and initiating activities that sought to inculcate a civic sense in students. I am happy to place on record that in the course of this academic year, the unit undertook 25 cleanliness drives on the campus and the neighbouring areas. It is this initiative that helped the college to secure the second place as ‘the Clean Institution in Cuncolim Town’.

As character building and personality development, play an important role in a student’s life, I am pleased to inform that this year we initiated an NCC Army unit, (under the Goa Battalion, NCC Panjim) in the college. 18 students pursuing first year have registered as Cadets, and we are looking forward to registering more students in the next academic year.

I am happy to conclude that it has been two years, since I have taken over as the head of an institution full of enthusiastic students willing to learn, supportive parents who are always eager to make the teaching -learning process more enriching through their suggestions and a dedicated staff committed to imparting quality education. I look forward to their continued support, which I’m convinced is the only path through which the college can emerge as a centre of excellence for higher learning.

India has a vast geographical location, with a huge population. Being a large country with a large population, it is a land of many languages, religion, customs, race, cast, landforms, flora, fauna, cultures, food, clothing and so on. All these forms a part of India with rich resource and mainly human resource. The population of India is growing at a very fast pace. Presently, India is the second most populated country in the world. This population consist of people of all age group. The main resource is the working-class people which constitutes to the Demographic Dividend of the country.

Demographic dividend, as defined by the United Nations Population Fund (UNPF) means, “the economic growth potential that can result from shifts in a population’s age structure, mainly when the share of the working-age population is larger than the non-working-age population.” It occurs when the proportion of working people in the total population is high because this indicates that more people have the potential to be productive and contribute to the growth of the economy. One of India's competitive advantage is demographic dividend. The non-working age group people include the people below the age group of 15 years and above the age of 60 years. this group of population is dependent on the working age group people. Most of the Indian people fall under the category of working age group.

India is known for its demographic dividend. The population of the country as a resource is very helpful to the economy. A big advantage for India is having a huge amount of workforce. Large population can contribute to more in the national gross domestic product (GDP). The country, with the use of human resource, will be able to make use of other resources which are non-human in nature such as land, water, oceans, forests, ponds, animals, solar energy, wind energy and so on in most effective and efficient manner. Ultimately, man is considered as the most crucial resource of all resources.

The working age people of the country, helps in taking the country at a greater height. Since India is a developing country and developmental activities are held on a wider scale, there is huge requirement of working age people. The major role played for the development of the country is by the industrial sector. Industrial sector utilises resources such as land, equipment, machinery with the help of human resource.

In India, industrial sector is growing. Consider an example, an industrial unit is set up. For the production activities to begin, the industrialist will require machinery, tools and equipment, raw material and so on. These assets need to be purchased from the suppliers who in return will receive revenue for sale of goods. To the workforce or the employees, the industrialist will be paying wages and salaries. This will become employee's income. The employee will spend this salary as his or her household expenditure which will generate revenue to the retailer. The firm will generate revenues and profits. Out of these profits, a part will be paid to the government as taxes.

This cycle goes on. Thus, everything depends on the working of the people. Many industrialists set up an enterprise and employ people. This will lead to economic development of the country. Indian people have entered into IT sector, manufacturing sector, marketing sector, agricultural sector, etc. all these industries generate employment opportunities to the people as skilled and unskilled workers. To boost this, government has started with programmes such as "Make in India".

However, there are many challenges which India needs to overcome. India has a good amount of human resource, but if this resource is not used properly, it will turn as a burden on the country. Due to the increase in population, there is more demand for food, clothing, construction of houses, water resources, release of more household waste in the environment etc. if the working age people are less, no production and service activities will be held. This will in return lower the gross domestic product (GDP) and will have an adverse effect on the economic development of the country.

If more population is there, all the resources of the country will be used up rapidly. There will be a problem of unemployment. since, most of the new jobs that will be created in future will be highly skilled and lack of skill in Indian workforce is another challenge. There are serious problems with Indian higher education. These include a shortage of high-quality faculty, poor incentive structures and lack of good regulation. Sometimes people are willing to work but they cannot find a job as per their satisfaction. In such a situation the working capacity of a person goes waste.

With limited progress in human development, India's large population can become a liability other than an advantage. The Indian people will have to face many health-related problems. Overpopulation will lead to a crowded city area. All the people from villages will shift to big cities due to lack of employment, education and health care facilities in rural areas. These problems will create a shortage of resources for human survival. People will fight for food with each other. The smooth functioning of the country will get disturbed. A stage will come where India will have to purchase everything from other countries. All the foreign exchange reserves of the country will get over as it happened in 1980's.

All these drawbacks with proper measures can be turned into an advantage. India's demographic dividend will only bear fruit when the young population is well nurtured. For an economy to grow, human health is very essential. No good health of people means no supply of workforce. Health and education are the two major elements for a rich demographic dividend of a country.

A high population of a country is an advantage. Making proper use of this human resource is very essential. To convert this resource into most productive use, people should be provided with good infrastructural facilities. The major role is played by the government. A lot of incentives are offered to the public. Government has established National Skill Development corporation (NSDC). This corporation upgrades the skills to international standards, focus on under privileged sections of society etc. Government provides loans with low interest rates for starting up business especially to the women entrepreneurs.

Government has come with various plans and programmes for the employees. It has also stated the maximum working hours as 8 hours up to which an employee can work. Fatigue effect is very common. The organisation should have proper planning so that no employee becomes inefficient. This is one way of making good use of employee potential to convert them into rich demographic dividend. Providing proper incentives will motivate the workforce to give better performance and increase their efficiency. This will in turn help the organisation to get higher profits and expand their business. All this becomes the part of economic development of the country.

Education makes the public aware about their responsibilities. Knowledge helps in making the country's population competitive with other countries. Training is very essential. Every organisation before appointing the personnel for its organisation, selects and trains them. Many training programmes are held some of which are on the job training and off the job training programmes. We can avoid overpopulation in city areas by proper city development plans. This will lead to equal distribution of human resource which can be turned into most productive and efficient use.

India has a great potential for economic gains, which can be termed as the demographic gift. The youth of the country must have access to quality education, adequate nutrition and health. The major advantage of having demographic dividend in India is the increased labour supply. According to International Monetary Fund (IMF), India's continuing demographic dividend can add about 2 percent to the annual rate of economic growth.

The success story of India is becoming newspaper headlines today. We can see the developmental phase through which India is passing is very fast. Indian companies have entered into international market. India is gifted with rich demographic dividend spread throughout the country. Every individual is gifted with different inborn talents which helps the country in such a manner that they use their talents for the growth, development and betterment of the country. Thus, demographic dividend of India will take the country to a greater height. In future, India along with its rich demographic dividend will reach to a very great height.

This essay is one of the entries at the essay writing competition, organized by the South Zone District Legal Services Authority, Goa

Around the world ‘Demographic Dividend’ has become a spicy topic for the various sectors of economist, experts and policy makers. Demographic dividend, as defined by the United Nations Population Fund (UNPF) means, “the economic growth potential that can result from shift in a population’s age structure mainly when the shares of the working-age population is larger than the non-working-age shares of the population. In other words, Demographic dividend refers to the growth in an economy due to rise in the shares of working people in a population. This means that there is relatively larger working people than the dependents.

No country can achieve its strength and meet the challenges of 21st century without participation of working population both men and women. The one best way to reduce poverty, achieve gender equality, increase skilled people, etc through education. A country is expected to gain the demographic dividend when shares of its working population is larger than the share of its non-working population. A country that experiences low birth rates with low death rates, will lead to economic dividend or benefits. Economic benefits to a country arises when its population has a relatively higher working age people with great empowerment, education and employment. If fertility and mortality rates decreases, there will be less dependent than the working people. Results in productive labour force increases, and thereby it automatically contributes to country's economy.

India is a country of different people with different languages, different religion performing different culture. India has a myriad of landscape, great heritage and varied flora and fauna. The country is the most preferred tourist destination for tourist from all over the world. India is the second largest populated country in the world. India has more than 50% of its population below the age of 25 and more than 65% below the age of 35. At present, India, overall, has a large proportion that is young. India realises the demographic dividend in recent year. Demographic dividend is said to be existing when the ratio of the working age population is high and the ratio of dependency is low. This has a positive benefit to the country. Demographic dividend is said to be arise, firstly, when there has increase in the number of labour force than the dependents. This made provision for the growth in economy. Secondly, when the fertility and mortality rates decreases, there will be increase in life expectancy in old people and also the no. of children decreases thus individuals can save more. This minimises the economic pressure on the working people and better health and education for children.

But with huge populations comes huge problems. Problems like poor healthcare, malnutrition, corruption, unemployment, etc. As population increases there will be more demand for jobs, thus it will results in lack of jobs if enough jobs are allotted or made available for more people who will join the work force every year. Thus there will be increase in no. of dependents on the working population. If the wages that this population earns are at a subsequent level- just enough to survive- then there would be nothing left over for them to buy consumer product. This would mean a shrinking in the total consumption of the economy, and would thus constrain and not encourage India's economic growth. This will increase the economic insecurity of the elderly, as there will be fewer people generating wealth. Therefore the government should have alternative measures to overcome this type of problems. Failure to provide opportunity to the growing young population, will result in raising unemployment and anti-social activities.

India's present education system is not that much powerful to improve practical knowledge and skills of students. It is a bigger obstacle to increase skilled workforce. Students of the 5th standard in India are unable to read a text prescribed for the 2nd standard, indicating a low level of literacy inspite of being enrolled in school. By the time this students become old enough to join the working population, there they find themselves without any relevant skills. As adults without a strong skill-set, these young people will only be suited to semi-skilled work, which tends to pay subsistence level wages only.

India's Demographic dividend will only bear fruit when the young population is well nurtured. Any demographic dividend depends on whether the government implements the right policies in area such as education, health, governance and the economy. To enjoy the benefits of demographic dividend Government of India must act quickly and should invest more in education, skill improvement and employability by providing special training to underprivileged and poor in a society. Education system must be improved to focus on improving technical capabilities to match with the industry requirements. Quality of education must be improved. Government should invest more on health, safety and related services, will results in affordable healthcare. Increased life expectancy will be challenged by health care facilities and social security for old people. Pension schemes should be reformed by introducing funded elements, in which contribution of every employee is delivered at the time of retirement.

Demographic dividend must be combined with good policies and skills impart programs. Reforms must be done in education system, without which the fruits of demographic dividend cannot be enjoyed. “The world was aging, but India was growing younger”. This statement promotes India’s future growth to the world and creates a powerful weapon to enjoy the demographic dividend for a long period of time.

मातृभाषा

मातृभाषा यानी मां की भाषा। मां से ज्यादा श्रेष्ठ कोई और हो सकता है भला? तो फिर आपने मातृभाषा से बेहतर हमारे लिए कोई और भाषा कैसे हो सकती है? हमें अपनी भाषा पर अभिमान होना चाहिए। लेकिन हमें तो अपनी मातृभाषा से शर्मिंदगी महसूस होती है और बाकी अन्य विदेशी भाषाओं में बात करने में हमें गर्व महसूस होता है। यदि कोई अपनी मातृभाषा में बात करें या फिर हम खुद जब अपनी मातृभाषा में बात करते हैं तब हम अपने आप को छोटा समझते हैं। आजकल लोग फ्रेंच, जर्मन जैसी विदेशी भाषा सीखने और बोलने लगे हैं। उन भाषाओं में बातचीत करने में कोई बुराई नहीं है लेकिन अपनी भाषा को छोटा समझना यह तो सरासर गलत है ना ? जिस भाषा से अपनी असली पहचान है उसे ही छुपाना, उसे अपनाने से इंकार करना, उसका अपमान करना, यह तो अपने मातृभाषा के साथ नाइंसाफी है।

जब तक हम खुद अपने भाषा को नहीं अपनाएंगे, उसकी इज्जत नहीं करेंगे तब तक कोई और हमारी मातृभाषा की इज्जत करे उसकी अहमियत को समझे इसकी उम्मीद हम कैसे कर सकते हैं? कोई भी भाषा छोटी नहीं होती हर किसी को अपनी मातृभाषा पर नाज़ होना चाहिए। आज की जो परिस्थिति है उसमें लोग अपनी मातृभाषा से दूर भागते हैं। इसे बदलने के लिए हमें बचपन से बच्चों को अपनी मातृभाषा की इज्जत करनी सिखानी होगी, अपने भाषा का महत्व बताना होगा, उन्हें उनके मातृभाषा से परिचित कराना होगा ताकि उन्हें अपनी मातृभाषा से लगाव हो, उससे अपनापन महसूस हो, ना की शर्मिंदगी। जो अपनापन हमें अपनी भाषा से है वो हमें किसी भी और भाषा से नहीं होगा। अपने विचार , ज़ब्रबात हम अपनी मातृभाषा से बेहतर किसी भी और भाषा में व्यक्त नहीं कर पाएंगे। जब हम मन ही मन अपने आप से बातें करते हैं तब हम सिर्फ अपने मातृभाषा में ही बात करते हैं। ज्यादातर जिन लोगों को कहानियां, कविताएं, नाटक और अन्य साहित्य के प्रकार देखने, सुनने, पढ़ने और लिखने में दिलचस्पी है, वह अपनी मातृभाषा में ही साहित्य लिखते हैं क्योंकि अपनी भाषा में ही अपनापन महसूस होता है।

अपनी मातृभाषा को बढ़ावा देना बहुत जरूरी है। यदि अपनी मातृभाषा को बढ़ावा देना है तो सबसे अच्छा तरीका यह है कि अपने भाषा में जितना हो सके उतना साहित्य लिखना चाहिए। यथार्थ हमें साहित्य अपने भाषा में पढ़ना, लिखना, सुनना होगा, उसे बढ़ावा देना होगा। अपनी मातृभाषा के लिए यह करना बहुत ही जरूरी है।

अरे यार, अपने घर में ही रहो ना।

हर और सन्नाटा यहां,
हर रोज बढ़ते फासले,
हर रोज मौत बढ़ रही यहां,
हर ओर दुख के काफिले।

रुक गई रफ्तार संसार की,
रुक गई रफ्तार कामकाज की,
हम वक्त के मजदूर हैं,
पर वक्त से मजबूर हैं।

सब इसके गिरफ्त में,
सब इसकी चपेट में,
हर शख्स को संक्रमित किया इसने,
ना देखा ऊंच-नीच का भेद इसने।

कामकाज और कारखाने हुए बंद,
मिल रहा सबको दंड,
जो सालों में ना हुआ वह अब हो रहा
साफ हुई नदियां, साफ पवन बह रहा।

डर मत, आगे बढ़ तो सही

डर मत डर मत डर मत तू,
घर बनाएं बैठा है जो तेरे मन में,
उसे बाहर निकाल दे तू,
डर मत, आगे बढ़ तू।

जो हुआ, तेरे भले के लिए ही हुआ,
बर्बाद नहीं,
इस समय का उपयोग कर तू,
डर मत, आगे बढ़ तू।

भाग दौड़ की जिंदगी में,
भूल गया था अपने आप को तू,
वक्त मिला है, याद करले खुद को भी तू,
डर मत, आगे बढ़ तू।

चिंता को चीता को काहे बना रहा है?
बुरे वक्त से हाथ काहे मिला रहा है?
वक्त बुरा तो सबका आता है,
इस वक्त में भी मुस्कुरा तो सही,
वक्त को गुलाम बना तो सही,
डर मत, आगे बढ़ तो सही।

चूहे की तरह बील में क्यों बैठा है?
शेर है तू, शेर की तरह दहाड़ तो सही,
तीर को निशाने पर लगा तो सही,
डर मत, आगे बढ़ तो सही।

प्रभु की लीला न्यारी है,
इसके आगे किसकी चली है?
झर को बाहर निकाल तो सही,
झर मत, आगे बढ़ तो सही।
